Society Attends Army-Navy Game

By MILDRED MARSHALL KOONCE

TOMORROW will witness the resumption of festivities which suffered a brief hiatus on the departure of fashionable society to attend the Army and Navy game in New York. A veritable whirl of gaieties swept the Capital in the days immediately preceding Thanksgiving, and the holiday itself was filled with the most delightful hospitalities, though mostly in the nature of family parties. Scarcely a household but had some interesting guests to share the Thanksgiving feast, and a number of holiday house parties, guests and all, were merrily transferred to New York on Saturday for the great game of the season.

The presence of the interesting party in the Presidential box lent a distinguished note to the fashionable company of spectators, and the official life of the Capital was splendidly represented by the members of the Cabinet and the Congressional folk, many of whom came from distant homes for the occasion. The Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing arrived in New York in time for the game, and were the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Edward Eberle. The household of the Secretary of War was transferred to the Empire City for the entire holiday season. Mrs. Garrison went over early last week and was joined by the Secretary for Thanksgiving Day, which they passed with relatives and friends, remaining for the game.

Mrs. Gregory, wife of the Attorney General, and Miss Jane Gregory, were other members of the Cabinet circle who partook of the Thanksgiving feast in New York as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Clark, and viewed the game with their hosts. On their return to the Capital, Mrs. Gregory and Miss Gregory will bring with them Miss Mary Bryan, of Houston, Tex., and Miss Mary Taylor, of Tyler, Tex., who will be their guests until after Christmas. The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels and the Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Lane also witnessed the game, the latter having as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Caspar Miller. Among other official folk who went over for the day were the Chairman of the Federal Trades Commission and Mrs. Joseph Davies, and Mrs. William H. Borah, wife of Senator Borah, who had with her Miss Ormsby, of Boise City, Idaho, who is her guest for several weeks.

The army and navy set was almost completely transported to New York for the week-end. Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Hugh L. Scott entertained several guests in their box at the game, among them Miss Blanchard Scott, and Miss Houston Scott. Rear Admiral and Mrs. William S. Benson, who also occupied a box, had with them Mrs. W. P. Wyse, of Baltimore County, Md., and Midshipman Francis Wyse Benson. Maj. Gen. and Mrs. George Barnett had a number of interesting guests with them, and Capt. and Mrs. Theodore Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitney, Mrs. Walter Blaine Salisbury, Miss Anne McCormick, and Mr. Clarence Michals made up a merry party which attended the game and will later come to Washington to be the guests of Capt. and Mrs. Baldwin for several days.

Commander and Mrs. Edward Kalbfus took advantage of the perfect weather to motor to New York; they were accompanied by Maj. and Mrs. Harold Reisinger. Mrs. Joseph E. Kuhn, wife of Col. Kuhn, witnessed the game, and afterward chaperoned a dinner party of young people of which her son, Cadet Parker Kuhn, was a member, at the Astor Hotel. Maj. and Mrs. Edward Sigerfoos, accompanied by their young daughter, Miss Grace Sigerfoos, Lieut. and Mrs. Leonard Hoffman, Admiral and Mrs. Robert E. Peary, and Miss Marie Peary; Capt. and Mrs. Mark Bristol, Admiral and Mrs. Gleaves and Miss Evelyn Gleaves, Col. and Mrs. C. A. F. Flagler and their house guest, Mrs. Andrews, and Col. and Mrs. Arthur were among the host of military and naval folk who deserted the Capital for a brilliant week-end in New York.

The debutante circle was well represented among the fashionable spectators. Miss Margaret Read, daughter of Col. and Mrs. George W. Read, was among the buds who viewed the game, and Miss Beatrice Dulin, Miss Marguerita Tillman, and Miss Lillian Sutton, of Austin, Tex., were members of a party entertained by Lieut. Herman Fischer, U. S. N.

Capt. Eberle, with Mrs. Eberle and Mrs. Edward Eberle, and Miss Mildred North, of Providence, no house guest at the superintendent's residence, left Annapolis yesterday morning with the football team. While in New York Capt. Eberle is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Rollins, who were, in turn, his guests at the football game yesterday.

Others in Capt. Eberle's box party were the Secretary of State and Mrs. Lansing, former Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Mr. Beckman Winthrop and Mrs. Winthrop, former Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey and Mrs. Fort, Miss Fort, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Willard H. Brownson, Rear Admiral and Mrs. John H. Gibbons, Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wise Wood, and Mr. Lewis Stillman, of New York; Mr. Charles Lathrop Pack, of Lakewood, N. J., and Lieut. Commander and Mrs. Kuriz, of the Naval Academy.

Lieut. Col. the Hon. Murrough O'Brien, military attaché of the British Embassy, has gone to New York with the Hon. Mrs. O'Brien, who is sailing on the St. Paul to spend Christmas in London with her mother, Mrs. Mason. She will return to this country early in January.
